FIRES IN COUNTRY LAST NIGHT KEPT PEOPLE ALARMED

Residence of George Miller
Near Gage in Ballard Co.
Destroyed.

W. H. Rudolph's Barn in Mc-
Cracken Burned.

NO INSURANCE ON EITHER.

Two fires kept the citizens of the southern part of McCracken and Ballard counties, near the county line, busy last night. The first fire occurred near Gage, in Ballard county, where the residence of George Miller was destroyed, and the second fire occurred a mile from Lovelaceville when the stock barn of W. H. Rudolph was destroyed.

The cause of the fire at the Miller residence is unknown, although a burning lamp, it is believed, started the flames. The fire spread with rapidity, and only a few articles were recovered from the house. The loss will be about $1,500 with no insurance. It was fought by the bucket brigade, but to no avail. It was a neat cottage of five rooms.

Stock Barn Burns.

A second fire a few miles distant occurred in McCracken county, when the stock barn and corn crib of W. H. Rudolph was discovered on fire. Neighbors rushed to the rescue and all of the stock was released from the burning barn. However, about 100 barrels of corn and a supply of hay was burned. The loss will be about $800 with no insurance. The origin of the blaze is unknown, as it had gained good headway when discovered, and it was with difficulty that the stock was released.

Little Cypress Fire.

The tobacco barn of Jesse Rye, a farmer residing near Little Cypress, was destroyed by fire Sunday night. It is thought the fire originated from careless smokers, who had congregated at the barn going to a meeting, which was held a short distance away.

E. W. Whittemore Returns.

Mr. Edgar W. Whittemore, worthy grand patron of the Kentucky Order of the Eastern Star, has returned from Louisville, where he attended a reception and banquet given in honor of the state officers, who were elected last month in Paducah. The reception was held in the Scottish Rite cathedral.

NON-COMMITTAL

WAS CORONER'S JURY IN WALTER SCOTT INQUEST.

Coroner Frank Eaker's jury, in returning a verdict after the inquest into the death of Walter Scott, colored, yesterday afternoon at the city hall, was non-committal and said "Scott came to his death by a pistol ball fired by John Wiggins." The examining trial of Wiggins in police court was continued again this morning until Monday on account of Commonwealth Attorney Alben Barkley being absent from the city. The accused is confined in the county jail.

WILL CLOSE DECEMBER 11.

Date Named for Closing Books of the Tobacco Association.

Mayfield, Ky., Nov. 30.—At a called meeting of the county committee of the Planters' Protective association, held at the city hall in Mayfield, Ky., November 29, a resolution was passed ordering the books of said association closed in Graves county Saturday, December 11. No pledges to be taken after this date, and all pledges turned over to the precinct committee of county chairmen not later than December 13. Positively no tobacco will be received by said association after this date. It was also ordered that each precinct committee be at his respective voting precinct Saturday, December 11, from 1 till 4 p. m. to take pledges.

Rehearing Denied.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 30. (Special.) A motion for a rehearing in the case of George Kreutzer against Jesse Weil was overruled today in the appellate court. The appellate court affirmed the verdict from the McCracken circuit court, where a verdict for $1,000 was given the defendant. Kreutzer was injured while crossing the street by Weil's automobile, and got a verdict for damages.

Ship Picks Up Wireless That Says Cannon and Groce Were Not Killed; But Little Credence is Given it

Estrada Informs His Representative at Washington
That Zelaya Offers to Surrender.

Washington, Nov. 30.—Senor Castillo, minister designate of the provisional government of Nicaragua, received a cablegram today from Estrada, stating that he received proposals of surrender from Calderon, acting for Zelaya, and it was turned down by Estrada. The cablegram also says Zelaya's army is encircled by Estrada's.

Say Americans Are Safe.

New Orleans, Nov. 30.—Cannon and Groce are still alive, according to Captain Holmes, of the steamer Atenas, arriving here today. He declares his vessel picked up a wireless supposed to be from Bluefields, November 27, saying they are alive and in prison at Managua. Who sent the message the vessel has not determined. Little credence is given the report here. It is believed the message was sent out as a blind, and is not believed to be true. Twenty-six other Americans are in prison by Zelaya's orders, the message said.

French Warship Goes.

San Jose, Costa Rica, Nov. 30.—A French warship was ordered from Martinique to Nicaragua, according to a report here, following complaint lodged with the French consul general, of ill treatment of a number of Frenchmen in Nicaragua. The complaint was made by Faustino Montell, a Frenchman who escaped from Nicaragua and went to Costa Rica.

Intervention Probable.

Mexico City, Nov. 30.—That Mexico and the United States have conferred on a plan to end the present trouble in Central America and will act in conjunction with each other is the statement of Senor Mariscal, minister of foreign affairs. Mexico will take active steps to prevent a clash between Nicaragua and any foreign power and probably offer intervention in order to keep peace. Mariscal declared emphatically that Mexico won't appoint a president for Nicaragua, as stated by the Central American colony. Mariscal declared that Mexico is friendly to both the United States and Nicaragua and would try to use its friendship to pacify both. It is not believed here there will be any clash between the United States and Nicaragua. Nearly everybody here approves the action of the United States in waiting for a thorough investigation, regarding the Cannon and Groce executions before taking action.

Zelaya Sends Denial.

Francisco Castro, Nicaraguan minister to Mexico, said he received a cable today from Zelaya, denying he has resigned and also denying that dispatches to the American vice-consul at Managua were relayed by the Nicaraguan government. Castro affirmed the report that Mexico intends to endeavor to cause a peaceful settlement of the Nicaraguan disturbance.

Mr. John C. Smith.

Clarksville, Tenn., Nov. 30.—Mr. John C. Smith, a well known citizen of South Clarksville, died Sunday about midnight with Bright's disease. He was 86 years old and spent nearly all of his life in this city. He was formerly a well known contractor, but retired from business a number of years ago. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Branch Tarpley, Sr., and three sons, Boone and Ben Smith of this city, and Durwood Smith, of St. Louis, Mo.

He'd Better Find Work.

If Roy Matthews, colored, 17 years old, son of Pearl Matthews, fails to find employment he will be a dead one, according to the woman, who appeared before Judge Cross after police court was concluded this morning, and asked for his arrest. Pearl told Chief Collins she and her son engaged in a fight this morning and he knocked her sprawling. Owing to the boy being under age the police would have no power to arrest him and the woman was told to get a club and make him work. She said she would find a big club and would end his existence if he didn't obey orders.

SECRETARY MEYER PLANS TO REFORM NAVY DEPARTMENT

Duties of Department Will be Divided Between Four Aids.

More Power for Officers Who Fight the Ships.

REAL REVOLUTION IS PLANNED.

Washington, Nov. 30.—Heeding the cry for reform in naval affairs, Secretary Meyer tomorrow will inaugurate the most sweeping changes in the navy department since the establishment of the bureau system in 1842. Himself a director of banks and manufacturing companies in New England in times past, he hopes to put the department on a business basis beyond the dreams of his predecessors. The keynote of his reforms is the subordination of the bureau chiefs of the past.

Summarized, the essential changes in the Meyer plan are:

The selection of four responsible advisers on subjects within the four groups into which duties of the department fall, to be known as the aid for material, the aid for personnel, the aid for operations of the fleet and the aid for inspection.

Grouping of the bureaus into two divisions of material and personnel, according to the nature of their duties.

Establishment of a division of operations of the fleet.

Establishment of a comprehensive inspection system.

Establishment of a modern and efficient cost keeping system in the navy department and in navy yards.

Separation of navy yard work into two divisions of hulls and machinery.

Abolishment of the board of construction.

Abolishment of the bureau of equipment.

More Power for Officers.

Henceforth the officers who fight the ships are to have more influence in the navy department.

Chosen men from among them are to be the official eyes and ears of the secretary, laden with full responsibility for their reports, but not his hands. The secretary will retain his administrative and executive power for his own exercise and that of the assistant secretary of the navy.

All the reforms go into effect December 1, except the abolishing of the bureau of equipment, which congress alone can do.

The aid for operation of the fleet will be Rear Admiral Richard Wainwright, commander of the third division of the Atlantic fleet; the aid for personnel, Rear Admiral W. P. Potter, now chief of the bureau of navigation; the aid for material will be Rear Admiral William Swift, commandant of the Boston navy yard, and the aid for inspection will be Captain Aaron Ward, recently supervisor of the New York harbor, who will become a rear admiral on January 9.

According to the Meyer plan, the board of construction becomes useless and, therefore, will be abolished.

Under the Meyer plan, the operating branch, which deals directly with the military use of the fleet, will originate the military features of new construction in consultation with the general board, of which the new aid for operations will be a member. Other officers will also be called in for advice and criticism, both before and after the sketch plans have been prepared by the technical bureaus. These officers will be selected because of pronounced success in ordnance, engineering or torpedo practical work.

At the navy yards, Mr. Meyer has decided to divide the single manufacturing department established by Mr. Newberry into two divisions—one of machinery and the other of hulls—"according to the general practice in ship building establishments in this country and with the naval dock yards of England and Germany."

The existing bureau of yards and docks, the marine corps and certain other branches of the department, not logically included in any of the four divisions of duties, will be placed under the assistant secretary.

Plot to Assassinate or Kidnap Oil King Rockefeller Frustrated by Man Who Heard Conspiracy

John D. Abandons His Trip to Church and Remains at Home Closely Guarded—
Police on Lookout.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 30.—Chief of Police Kohler and Marshal James Stanberger, of East Cleveland, are looking for two men said to be implicated in a plot either to kidnap or assassinate John D. Rockefeller. Information was sent to all the police of the country, asking them to apprehend suspects. Information was furnished the police by Lawyer Smith, a business man of Minerva, O., who overheard the plot in Alliance, O., Sunday night. Elaborate plans for doing away with the Oil King were discussed, he told the police. When told by police, Rockefeller abandoned his plans to attend a farewell meeting at the Euclid Avenue Baptist church and the gates and walls, encircling his estate, were locked since and closely guarded.

Remembering Franklin.

Major W. G. Whitfield is recalling today the battle of Franklin, Tenn., when barefooted he remained so close to the enemy's works that they could not depress their guns to shoot him.

CITY IS ENRICHED
BY GAMBLING FINES

Eight remaining gay gamblers were presented in police court this morning and seven fined $20 each, netting the city $140 more as the result of Chief James Collins' spy work Saturday night and Sunday. One was left, he being charged with suffering from gaming in room No. 10 at the old Y. M. C. A. building. His case was continued until Friday.

SELF-LIGHTING CIGS
ARE LATEST NOVELTY

The latest smoking novelty reached Paducah today when a drug firm down town received the first shipment of "self-lighting cigarettes," something that has caught the eyes of automobilists. A preparation on the end of the cigarette, when drawn across a prepared strip on one side of the box ignites, doing away with matches. It is a convenience for windy days and smokers have no fear of getting a light even in the windiest weather.

POSTMASTER FISHER NAMED AS DELEGATE

Postmaster Frank M. Fisher received appointments at a delegate to two conventions, which will meet in Washington next week. One appointment was from Governor Augustus E. Willson, who appointed him as a delegate to the Southern Commercial Congress, which will convene in the national capitol December 6 and 7. The second appointment was to the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, which will be in session in Washington December 8, 9 and 10.

Lawson Reno Hears Some Pleasant News

Owensboro, Ky., Nov. 30. (Special.)—Lawson Reno has been notified that he is selected as internal revenue collector to succeed Ed. Franks in the western Kentucky district.

Mayor May Appoint.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 30. (Special.)—In reversing the judgment of the Campbell circuit court the appellate court holds that police and fire commissioners in second class cities hold only for the four years, for which they are appointed and do not hold until their successors qualify. Also it holds that the mayor is authorized to fill the vacancies without submitting the selections to the board of aldermen, but the original appointments must be approved.

Mayfield Loses Damage Suit.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 30. (Special.)—The appellate court upheld the damage judgment in the case of the city of Mayfield vs. W. F. H. Hugley. The appellee secured judgment for falling over an obstruction in the street.

GUS ROGERS TIPPED FOR DEPUTY WARDEN

Deputy Sheriff Gus Rogers is tipped for the job of deputy warden at the Edwile penitentiary, and several of his friends are trying to land the place for him. He has made a good deputy sheriff and will retire from office January 1. The appointment of deputy warden is made by the prison commissioners and it is said that the big deputy sheriff may be the fortunate one. It is also tipped that Aubrey Powell, of Bandana, will be appointed a guard at the penitentiary through the influence of Senator-elect W. V. Eaton. Powell formerly was a merchant at Bandana.

MEN'S AID SOCIETY
New York, Nov. 30.—An organization of men was perfected here to fight for woman's suffrage. It is known as the men's league for woman's suffrage. A big mass meeting soon will be held to interest other men in the cause. G. Foster Peabody is president. Among the vice-presidents are Herbert Parsons, Republican leader, William M. Ivins, who managed Hearst's campaign for mayor, and many other prominent New Yorkers.

GOMPERS GRANTED PLENTY OF TIME

INDEFINITE STAY OF EXECUTION ALLOWED IN HIS CASE.

Washington, Nov. 30.—An indefinite stay of the mandate in the Gompers case was granted by the district court of appeals today on account of the application for a writ of certiorari in the federal supreme court yesterday.

MEETINGS AT THE EAST CHURCH ARE SUCCESSFUL

The series of meetings which have commenced at East church to be conducted by the Rev. Castleberry were attended last night by a large crowd. Mr. Castleberry preached a forceful sermon from Mark II, 3. Preaching every day at 2:30 and 7 p. m. Everybody cordially invited.

PITIFUL SCENES ATTEND INQUEST

WIVES AND CHILDREN OF DEAD MINERS IDENTIFY KEYS.

Cherry, Ill., Nov. 30.—Scenes as heartrending as any witnessed here since the fire began are taking place at the coroner's inquest over the bodies of victims today. Women and children have crowded the town hall where it is being held, testifying as they identified bodies of relatives. The identity of 30 is established. Many witnesses unable to speak English testified through interpreters and told of recognizing the charred, blackened bodies through little trinkets carried in the pockets of the dead miners. One woman said she identified her husband through a lock of her hair he carried in his purse. Coroner Malm is still hearing evidence regarding the identification.

The investigation of the cause of the disaster in which 300 lost their lives will begin tomorrow or Thursday. The question of alleged employment of boys under 16 in the mine will be taken up.

Will Keep His Office Open Tonight in Order to Entertain the Crowd.

Today is the last day for the payment of county and state taxes without the penalty, and the sheriff's office was a veritable bee hive today. In order to accommodate the rush Sheriff Ogilvie will keep his office open tonight, and it will be the last opportunity to pay tax without the penalty. As this is the last month of the term of Sheriff Ogilvie and in order to make his settlement with the state auditor it will be necessary to sell all property on which the tax has not been paid.

The last half of the city taxes will be due tomorrow and December will be busy with the rush of city tax payers. Already many property owners have paid their taxes to avoid the jam the last of the month.

BURLEY JONES FALLS FROM RUNNING BOARD

Falling from the running board of an engine, Burley Jones, a boiler-maker's helper, fractured his left arm at the elbow this morning at the Illinois Central shops. He was walking along the narrow footing on the engine when he became unbalanced and the bone snapped from the force of the fall. He was carried to the Illinois Central hospital, where the fracture was reduced.

COMMERCIAL CLUB MEETING

The Commercial club held a called meeting at the Palmer House last night to take action on a proposition to operate the old plant of the Paducah Furniture company, on South Third street, which has been idle since this company ceased operations a few years ago. E. W. Mammon, of Evansville, Ind., appeared before the meeting and placed before the club his proposition for the formation of a company to take over the plant.

He proposes to organize a $50,000 company, one half of the stock of which is to be taken by local capitalists, and the balance by his friends and associates. He stated that he has already secured subscriptions for $12,500 and asked the Commercial club to assist in raising the balance. After a discussion of the proposition, the new industries committee was instructed to take up the matter, and refer it back at an early meeting, with its recommendations.

W. F. Bradshaw, Jr., made an interesting talk on the quality of clay adjacent to Paducah, and suggested that it was such as would justify the club in endeavoring to locate some factories here to make a commercial use of it.

Invite President Harahan.

At the suggestion of W. F. Paxton, the club issued an invitation to President J. T. Harahan, of the Illinois Central Railroad company, to come to Paducah at an early date as the guest of the club, with the object of acquainting him with the business men of the city and the advantages that Paducah offers as a manufacturing and distributing center. Mr. Paxton pointed out how Mr. Harahan's intimate knowledge of the conditions at New Orleans and Memphis has prompted him to do many things that have been potent factors in the great development of those two cities, and said that his practical eyes would no doubt readily grasp the importance of Paducah, and lead to the roads doing some big things for Paducah.

Secretary Fowler again called the club's attention to the coming visit of H. F. Smith, traffic manager of the N. C. & St. L. railroad December 22, with a party of experts, when a meeting to discuss matters of interest to the farmers will be held.

The regular noonday luncheon of the club for this month will be announced for one day next week.

DEMURRAGE RULES GO INTO EFFECT

ANOTHER STEP TO STOP DISCRIMINATION.

Railroads Said to Substitute the Demurrage Violations for Old-Time Rebates.

STATE AND FEDERAL PLANS

Washington, Nov. 30. (United Press.)—On the first day of December a uniform set of demurrage rules, which will do more to prevent discrimination between shippers and to give the small man a chance than any other act since the passage of the anti-rebate law, will be put into effect on more than two hundred thousand miles of railroad in the United States. The adoption of the rules, which, by agreement among the railroads and state railroad commissions, will be made uniform all over the United States, is the first real piece of constructive regulation of railroads ever done by the interstate commerce commission, and the credit of the accomplishment is due largely to Commissioner Franklin K. Lane, of California, whom President Roosevelt once described as "the best man on the interstate commerce commission."

The rules were adopted at Washington recently by the national association of railway commissions, composed of the federal and state railway commissions and which is purely an advisory body, having no existence under the law. They were threshed out by a committee which worked for a year, holding meetings in various large commercial centers to which both shippers and railroad men were invited. Commissioner Lane was chairman of the committee.

After the adoption of the demurrage code by the association, the traffic managers of the biggest railroads in the country recommended their adoption by the roads, and they will go into effect at once.

In the course of its investigations, the committee unearthed an astounding condition of affairs. It found that big shipping interests had substituted violation of demurrage rules for the old habit of demanding rebates and that by refusing to pay demurrage charges, they maintained a supremacy over other shippers who were forced to return cars on time or pay the consequences. The "private car" was being used, the committee found, practically to eliminate smaller shippers, because no railroad could exact demurrage charges from shippers who owned their own cars.

In the old days, the steel interests of Pittsburgh had been able to amass millions of dollars annually by exacting rebates from the railroads on

A FEELING OF SECURITY.

You naturally feel secure when you know that the medicine you are about to take is absolutely pure and contains no harmful or habit producing drugs.

Such a medicine is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy.

The same standard of purity, strength and excellence is maintained in every bottle of Swamp-Root.

Swamp-Root is scientifically compounded from vegetable herbs.

It is not a stimulant and is taken in teaspoonful doses.

It is not recommended for everything.

It is nature's great helper in relieving and overcoming kidney, liver and bladder troubles.

A sworn statement of purity is with every bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

If you need a medicine, you should have the best.

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you will find it on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, fifty cents and one dollar.

Sample Bottles of Swamp-Root Free by Mail.

Send to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle, free by mail—it will convince any one. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling all about the kidneys. When writing be sure and mention the Paducah Daily Sun.

pain of diverting their traffic or building their own line. The committee found that the steel barons of today had varied the program slightly by refusing to return empty cars on time or to pay any charge for keeping them overtime. In one case a steel foundry diverted its traffic, amounting to several hundred thousands of dollars a year to another line, because a railroad insisted on collection of a demurrage charge of $150. The common practice was for the railroads to charge this up to "weather and bunching of cars" rather than risk losing the traffic of the big fellows.

This has all been swept away by the new code, which provides briefly:

(1) All private cars in railroad service are to be subject to demurrage rules. (2) Forty-eight hours free time will be allowed for loading or unloading all commodities, but one day extra will be allowed when cars are held for re-consignment, switching orders or inspection. (3) Industries owning their own tracks and switching engines will not be allowed any extra time. (4) At the expiration of free time a charge of $1 a day or fraction will be exacted. (5) No railroad can refund demurrage charges unless weather conditions are such that the freight will be damaged by loading or unloading or unless it is impossible for the shipper to get to the car. (6) Shippers can average their demurrage charges at the end of each calendar month by receiving credit for the cars they have loaded or unloaded before the expiration of the free time.

Among the most flagrant abuses that the committee remedied by the new code are those of shippers using cars for warehouses while waiting for a rise in prices under the guise of holding cars for re-consignment. It was found that five or seven days was allowed in some parts of the country for re-consignment. The so-called "industrial rule," which gave shippers who own their own tracks and engines, more time than the ordinary shipper to load and unload cars was abolished because it was utilized to freeze out less wealthy shippers.

The vast importance of having a code of demurrage rules that is uniform all over the country will, in the opinion of railroad experts, render repetition of the car shortage of 1907 impossible, and may even clean out the empty cars from New England, the "graveyard of cars," when the west is producing for transportation to get its produce to market.

In concluding its report, the committee said: "Car service rules are used to no small extent as a means by which favored shippers secure unlawful concessions. In some sections of the country where the failure to enforce demurrage rules has been particularly notorious, the railroads are carrying on their books at the present time uncollected demurrage charges in the amount of hundreds of thousands of dollars."

ECZEMA READILY CURED BY A SIMPLE HOME TREATMENT

A simple clean remedy that can be used in the home is what every person desires who is suffering from eczema. You can now have that remedy and get instant relief, and be cured permanently by ZEMO, a clean vegetable liquid for external use. ZEMO cures skin diseases by drawing the germs and their poisons, that cause the disease, to the surface of the skin and destroying them, leaving the skin clean and healthy. Mr. W. J. Gilbert, the druggist, will give you a booklet and a sample bottle of ZEMO and will explain to you how a great many cases of eczema and other forms of skin diseases have been cured by this simple home treatment.

AN UP-TO-DATE DRUGGIST

says it is surprising how many old-fashioned remedies are being used, which goes to show that it is hard to improve some of our grandmothers' old, time-tried remedies. For instance, for keeping the hair dark, soft and glossy, nothing equalling our grandmothers' "sage tea" has ever been discovered. Although, by the addition of sulphur and other ingredients, this old-fashioned brew has been made more effective as a scalp tonic and color restorer. Nowadays when our hair comes out or gets faded or gray, instead of going to the garden or garret for herbs and making the "tea" ourselves, we simply go to the nearest drug store and ask for a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. This preparation is sold by all leading druggists for 50 cents and $1 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price. For sale and recommendation by W. J. Gilbert.

This Week's Offerings In Our Various Departments

A Dress Goods Sensation

85 $1.50 Dress Goods at $1.19

Very Oppertune at This Season of the Year

This week we will put forward in our dress goods department twenty-five different shades and as many different cloths, 45 to 52 inches in width. All this season's styles, been selling regularly at $1.50 a yard—there is one shade of one cloth, maybe two or three shades of another—which to us we term broken assortments, possibly only enough of some pieces for one or two dresses, or a dress and skirt, hence we wish to clean out. To the purchaser, however, this should be more desirable—not being so many dresses of one style cloth. This week priced at $1.19

Imported Wool Dress Patterns

$2.50 a Yard Value at $1.69

We place on sale this week ten Imported Wool Dress Patterns, each one different shade and texture, the very height of dress goods perfection in style and quality, a suit of these will not only be exclusive, but give the wearer a personality distinguishable among the best dressed women. We have only ten patterns left, we offer choice this week, were $2.50 yard $1.69

Ladies' Tailored Suits $15.00 to $85.00

Our immense assortment now being shown in our Ladies' Suit Department is practically another stock than that offered a month ago, the style all the very newest, all having been bought the last thirty days, and bought considerably under price, marked accordingly, which affords you a rare opportunity to buy a suit at this season of the year. The style and price range is very large, offering a selection not to be found in any other store in Western Kentucky. The garments fit absolutely and we have made special preparation in sizes for the little and extra large women, and the woman who is ordinarily hard to fit.

We Quote Here Three Styles,
Values That We Consider Beyond Competition.

$15.00 Suit of Hard Finish Worsted, self tone stripe, Coat 45 inches long, lined with guaranteed satin, 4 cluster plaited skirt, comes in black navy and green, all sizes.

$25.00 Suit of Diagonal Serge, Coat 48 inches long, tailored coat, Skinner satin lined, comes in Navy, New Blue, Black, Green; all sizes.

$32.50 Suits of Imported Clifton Broadcloth, plain Skinner satin lined, new style plaited skirt, comes in Wood Brown, Black, Raisin, New Blue; all sizes.

Daily Thought.

"Keep in your heart a shrine to the ideal—and upon this altar let the fire never die."

Woman's triumph has already come. The woman's suffrage movement has now an auxiliary adjunct in the Gentlemen's Aid society of universal suffrage. We presume the members take their knitting to the meetings.

Needless alarm is aroused over the disappearance of Dr. Cook, heretofore hailed as discoverer of the north pole. As his shadow grows less, smaller persons begin to suspect him of fleeing from the exposure to come, and others seek fleeting prominence by charging him with being a humbug. But it doesn't make any difference, so long as the pole was discovered, who discovered it, even to those who paid $2 to hear Dr. Cook lecture. Isn't it worth $2 to hear the biggest lie of the century fresh from the lips of its author? Think of it.

MR. WATTERSON AMID STRANGE SCENES

Sometimes Henry Watterson is a prophet, seeing in the present tense, what is to come; sometimes he is a surgeon, taking the body politic to pieces with nice precision and classifying the parts; sometimes he more closely resembles the miner after base metal, but in his delving he often brings to light fossils that tell a story of ages of constructive evolution, a theory established long after Colonel Watterson's acquisitive function ceased operating. Yet, withal, we must grant that as a publicist, he is never a weather vane.

Mr. Watterson discovers himself in all three aspects in a long editorial in the Courier-Journal yesterday morning, replying to the letter of young Franklin Pierce, a nephew of the former president, who protests against Watterson's suggestion for Democrats in congress to "keep still and profit by the enemies' mistakes".

If Mr. Watterson represents the Democratic party in his position, then the question, what is the matter with Democracy? is answered; and Mr. Watterson gives himself over to the role of prophet, when the inevitable logic of his own discourse brings him to these words: "Until the Republicans break on the tariff and kindred issues, as the Democrats broke on slavery, the resources, discipline and momentum of the Republican party will keep things as they are. In due time there will be a new party; for universal education and universal suffrage mean universal revolution. The season of plenty or the season of famine will come. The tariff, the center-piece of abnormal and immoral wealth, will be as odious as ever the institution of African slavery was. The Republican party as the party of aristocracy will have to meet the fate which overtook the heretofore Democratic party, which was in the day of its power the party of aristocracy. But these things are likely to be two or three presidential elections ahead."

Mr. Watterson herein is not profound. The Democratic party did not go down in defeat because it was the party of the aristocracy. The old Federalist party was the party of the aristocracy, if there ever was such a thing; and it sank and the Whig party sank, and the Democratic party sank, because they were not sufficiently elastic to adjust themselves to new conditions as they arose. The test of the Republican party will be just exactly that. Mr. Watterson calls it the party of opportunity and, speaking slightly of Democracy, says, "it is a figure of speech, an empty jar with a label, silk stockings in the east, wooden shoes in the west, shirtless and hatless in the south, trying to be an opportunist like the Republicans and not knowing exactly how."

Again Mr. Watterson says "Let us hope these new conditions will not bring us face to face with a civil or social war. * * * Universal education and universal suffrage mean universal revolution. * * * Nothing short of revolution will satisfy Mr. Pierce. That will surely come; it will probably come with a crash."

Always the mind of the old man; always desiring conditions as they were; the good old times; the environments into which we were born and to which we were accustomed. Then we were unafraid. New things disturb us. We feel more at home wrangling over state rights, free trade, and Anglo-mania, than discussing internal improvements, conservation of resources, the Pacific question and regulation of interstate traffic.

On every issue, which relates specifically to the welfare of the people and the safety of the republic today Colonel Watterson is aligned with the enemies of popular government: the control of interstate carriers and commerce by the federal government; the conservation of national resources by the federal government; the protection of American industrial independence and the maintenance of the American wage scale; the safe-guarding of our interests in the Pacific, the extension of executive authority in the checking of corporate rapacity. He can see only centralization and state rights. His thoughts are in the past.

We are, after all, but children in the wilderness, journeying toward a promised land. Contemporary issues rise like peaks around us and we make as if to scale them, when suddenly we find them barring the way. The more progressive seek a pass that will lead around. Occasionally a little band of Socialists settles down in a comfortable cove and attempts to live the ideal life there, imagining they have found the promised land, but, all the same, doing good and giving the sojourners rest and an opportunity for a moment's peace and meditation along the way. The old ones, though, love the peaks among which they were born, and if they cannot scale the heights at whose feet they first saw the light, they would not press on, but linger in the rays of the setting sun amid familiar scenes.

Revolutions are only upheavals which violently remove obstructions. We are slowly, almost imperceptibly, drawing nearer perfection, and as old theories, and systems and policies become obsolete they clash and jar and their inadequacy is exposed. Meantime new ideas have sprung into general acceptance. The attitude of the public mind has changed, and the old-timer attributes the trouble to modern heresy, as he expresses it, and he prophesies revolution.

Still the world wags on, and has wagged its way into the period of the free press and past the day of civil war and bloody revolution.

Mr. Watterson even believes Taft was elected because the people had grown tired of Roosevelt. He says so. Listen: "Taft was elected, not because of Roosevelt, but in spite of Roosevelt. The country had grown tired of Roosevelt's incessantness and strenuousness, and would not take Bryan because he seemed too much like Roosevelt. Taft, a man of straw upon a platform of imposture, played to the trade-inspired temper of the time. The people were thinking more of dollars than of doctrines."

Yet, Taft was nominated by the pro-Roosevelt wing of the party, and Mr. Watterson's persistent charge against Mr. Taft was that he would be dominated by Roosevelt. It was that, which Mr. Taft had to face throughout his campaign before and after his nomination, and it elected him. Today his enemies are abusing him for not being enough like Roosevelt, and if Mr. Taft's swing around the country developed one fact, it was that the country demands adherence to the Roosevelt program.

Why? The answer to that question is the answer to Mr. Watterson's prediction of revolution and the overthrow of the Republican party. The Republican party passed one crisis, when the Democrats nominated Bryan in 1896 and again in 1900 on a free-silver platform. It passed another when it nominated Taft instead of Fairbanks. The Republican party turned a sharp corner during the Roosevelt administration. The zenith of materialism was attained under the Hanna regime. From the moment Roosevelt gathered up the reins we started on an era of ethical regeneration. The wilderness was conquered, the peace of the world assured, the safety of the Republic and its predominant influence established among men. Thence forward this nation was to proceed to the performance of its providential mission, which was the ultimate perfection of justice and equality of opportunity among all men, as proclaimed in the declaration of independence. No man can be a true patriot, who has not a conception of the providential nature of this country's calling; no man can have such a conception, who is not an optimist; and no man can be an optimist, who does not believe we are advancing upward.

It makes no difference to the true patriot whether the Republican party survives all the changes, which time and evolution bring; or whether, like its predecessors, at some sharp turning it continues straight ahead and finds itself in a cul de sac of dead issues. The old parties have glorious histories, and in their day they subserved useful purposes.

That a man, acquainted with the rising west and filled with its free spirit; a ripe scholar from a venerable school of learning, and a practical student of history, who applied the lessons of the old world to the problems of the new, arose from the ranks of the Republican party and gave it new leadership, is merely an incident. That the party wisely chose for his successor an experienced jurist, a trained diplomat and a man intimately acquainted with the practical questions of state today, is somewhere ordained of providence. But the main thing, not to be lost sight of, is that we are all Americans, loving our common country, interested in its welfare and development, and jealous of its power and good name; and as Democrats and Republican, Socialists and Prohibitionists, we should not simply "keep still and profit by the enemies' mistakes" but have no enemies where our common good is concerned, and unite on such measures as are not contrary to our principles and conceived spirit of American institutions.

MORE TAX FROM WHISKY WANTED

AUDITOR JAMES HAS BILL FOR WHICH HE WILL ASK.

Twenty-five Cents a Gallon is Amount He Wants Imposed for State Purposes, He Declares.

NEED MONEY FOR SCHOOLS

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 30.—State Auditor Frank P. James will recommend to the legislature, and will have a bill introduced imposing a tax of 25 cents a gallon on whisky for state purposes. He will have behind him in this movement several of the state officials, particularly Superintendent of Public Instruction Crabbe. Basing the withdrawals in 1910 on those of 1908, the state would collect in revenue $600,000, and Auditor James asks, "why not?" He says the federal government imposes a tax of $1.10 a gallon on whisky that is withdrawn, and why should there not be one-fifth of that amount collected for state purposes?

In the most recent decision of Judge O'Rear, for the court of appeals, Judge O'Rear said: "It is no longer a debatable question that the whisky business is under the police power of the state, for it is," and the appellate court has so decided several times. The increase of 25 cents on the gallon for taxes for state one would have to be paid by the consumer in the long run, and if Kentucky set the example in the collection of such a tax Auditor James argues that the other states in which there are distilleries would follow.

A hardship would be worked on no one, he says, and the state would get a good deal of money for taxes that will be so badly needed during the next few years. Auditor James is for putting practically all of this money collected in this way into the schools of the state, and lifting the state from the thirty-ninth in the list of states and territories in illiteracy, to the first in education.

Leave Money at Home.

The federal government collects in revenue from Kentucky distillers annually millions of dollars and Auditor James says there is no reason why some of this money should not be left at home. Auditor James, too, advocates strongly the assessment of whisky at one-half of its value, or at about $20 a barrel, and there are others of the administration who share with him this opinion.

They are not talking it, though, because they do not want the liquor men to get crossed with them. Auditor James said: "All other property must be assessed at its fair value but whisky is permitted to be assessed at one-fourth of its value, and escapes a just proportion of the taxes that it should pay."

The board of assessment and valuation increased the assessment on whisky this year to $10 a barrel, and there has been a kick and a protest, so that Auditor James is in favor of increasing the assessment to one-half of the value of whisky, and leaving it remain.

The money is needed for the schools, and the appropriations made by the legislature must be paid, and Auditor James says if the liquor men would pay their just proportion of the taxes there would be plenty of money for all kinds of institutions.

Bettie Owen for Brookport.
Egan for Sturgis, Ky.
Hosmer for Green river.

River and Weather.

The gauge at 7 a. m. read 6.5 feet, indicating a rise of two-tenths of a foot yesterday morning. Weather clear and business brisk.

Pilothouse Pointers.

From St. Louis the steamer Spread Eagle arrived in port at 9 o'clock last night with several barges and a wharfbow in tow. She went into winter quarters at the Duck's Nest, in the Tennessee, with the City of Savannah.

After a tow of coal the towboat Egan, of the West Kentucky Coal company, departed this morning for Sturgis with 12 empty barges.

The Nellie came up from Metropolis with two empties at 8 o'clock this morning and went to the Tennessee after logs.

The Cutaway III was engaged yesterday doing log work up the Tennessee. She brought out three rafts for the Paducah Veneer and Lumber company.

Tomorrow morning the towboat Morgan will clear port for the Tennessee river after a tow of ties for Metropolis.

The towboat W. T. Hardison arrived out of the Tennessee river early last night with a tow of ties for Joppa.

In command of Capt. Henry Baker the Hooser, of the Ayr & Lord Tie company's fleet here, departed this morning for Green river. At Evansville Mr. J. B. Lord, president of the company, will board her and make his annual inspection trip of the ties to be towed out of there this season.

The Dick Fowler had a big trip of freight and passengers this morning for Cairo. On her lower deck were 20 head of mules, owned by Charles Conant, to be taken to Cash Island, opposite Mound City, Ill. The team will be worked on Mr. Conant's larger farm.

Ed Doty, chief engineer on the Dick Fowler, has resigned and Ed Hart went out to succeed him this morning.

The Dunbar is here receiving freight and departs tomorrow evening at 6 o'clock for Waterloo, Ala. "Charlie," the sand-digger, is busy out in midstream every day.

The Metropolis packet, Cowling, is enjoying good business.

With the rise here the Ohio is now enabled to proceed to Golconda, which port she had to abandon for several weeks owing to the shallow water at the Sisters bar.

Some rivermen are of the opinion that a good boating stage in the Ohio is a long way off and it will be far into 1910 before there is good water.

The Chattanooga is still waiting for water in the Tennessee and will resume her Paducah and Chattanooga trade as soon as the river swells.

Charles Kopf returned from Brookport this morning, where a deal was closed to supply the government dredge boat, Virginia, with a big supply of West Kentucky coal.

MRS. JENNIE DRAKE

WILL BE BURIED HERE TOMORROW AFTERNOON.

Dies at Her Home, 834 Harris Street, After Distressing Illness.

Mrs. Jennie Drake, 43 years old, died at her home, 834 Harris street, yesterday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock after an illness of erysipelas. She was born in Alabama and had been living in this city for several years. Mrs. Drake was a widow and is survived by three daughters and one son, who are: Mrs. Jennie Lynn, Mrs. Florence Tomlinson, Miss Belle Drake and Mr. James Jones, all of this city. She was a member of the Methodist church and leaves a wide circle of friends here.

The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the residence and burial will be at Oak Grove cemetery. The Rev. R. W. Childs, pastor of the Union Rescue Mission, will officiate.

POLITICIANS

WILL GATHER FROM ALL THE FIRST TOMORROW.

Many Will Attend First District Democratic Committee Meeting Here.

Politicians from all over western Kentucky will meet in Paducah tomorrow for the purpose of arranging the time, place and manner of selecting a Democratic nominee for congress from the First district. At least 75 politicians are expected to be present. Some arrived this afternoon while the majority will arrive tonight and be on time for the meeting, which will be held at the Palmer House at 10 o'clock. Henry R. Lawrence, of Cadiz, will preside over the meeting. A secretary will be elected.

Congressman Ollie M. James is not expected to have any opposition for the nomination, although the names of Jake Corbett, of Wickliffe, Judge D. G. Park and Campbell Flournoy have been suggested and discussed.

Congressman James made a speaking tour over the First district a few months ago to quash any opposition that might arise. It is said that if James is the nominee without opposition the primary will be held the last of April. Should any candidate muster enough force to make opposition the primary will not be called before December.

At the next session of the legislature the Democrats will have a clean sweep of the First district, and the meeting tomorrow will be in the nature of a love feast. It is expected that the fourteen representatives and four senators from the district will be present, and conferences held to distribute the pie.

George Wilson, of Union county, Democratic candidate for speaker of the house, will arrive tonight to attend the meeting tomorrow. Harvey McCutcheon, state prison commissioner, will arrive tonight from Louisville.

Pretty Party at Frankfort for West Kentucky Girl.

Miss Virginia Nunn entertained yesterday afternoon for her guest, Miss Agnes Orr, of Princeton, Kentucky. The house was exquisitely decorated for the occasion in a profusion of yellow chrysanthemums, smilax and ferns. These beautiful fall flowers were arranged in vases all over the house and in the dining room the effect was especially pretty. A mound of them made a charming centerpiece and this was surrounded by a wreath of smilax. Around this was a row of pale yellow tapers, hooded in silver and yellow tulle. The mantles and the chandeliers were wreathed in the smilax. Miss Nunn and Miss Orr received their guests in the parlor. Miss Nunn wore a beautiful gown of white embroidered marquisette, and Miss Orr in a gown of blue chiffon cloth.—Kentucky State Journal, Frankfort.

Frankfort D. A. R. Chapter Bears Honored Name.

The Frankfort News says of the organization of a long-contemplated D. A. R. chapter there and of its name for the wife of Kentucky's first governor, Isaac Shelby, who is an ancestor of Mrs. William W. Powell, of this city:

"Frankfort is going to have a chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. During the last state meeting of the D. A. R. here in the Capital City, Mrs. Sam J. Shackelford was urged to be the regent of the local chapter and consented. Yesterday, in compliment to Mrs. Shackelford, Mrs. C. D. Chenault, the state regent of the Lexington chapter; Mrs. Milton J. Durham, vice president general-elect of the national organization, of Danville; Miss Julia Spurr, regent of the Lexington chapter; Miss Elizabeth Leslie, treasurer of the Lexington chapter, and Mrs. James S. Helm, of the Lexington chapter, came down in Mrs. Helm's big automobile and made Mrs. Shackelford regent of the 'Susanna Hart' chapter. The name 'Susanna Hart' was suggested by Mrs. Chenault and heartily agreed on by the prospective D. A. R.'s here. 'Susanna Hart' chapter, then, it is likely to be. First of all, 'Mrs. Susanna Hart' was the first lady of the land—of the Dark and Bloody Ground and she came here a bride with her husband, Governor Isaac Shelby, and together they kept 'mansion' at the foot of what is now Broadway, in a snug log house. Together with her husband she braved the perils and together with him she dispensed the hospitality at hand. Mrs. Susanna Hart Shelby was the great-grandmother of Mrs. Shackelford and the great-granddaughter of Governor William Magoffin. Several names for this local chapter were suggested, but by the by-laws it is specified that no chapter shall be named for any person who has not been dead for a certain number of years. So, all the chapters all over the United States are named for heroines long since past and gone. This was only a preliminary meeting and as Mrs. Shackelford has the power of appointing her officers she will take time and consideration in making 'her state.' Mrs. Shackelford is well worthy of the position of regent of this chapter and will give to it the dignity and the diplomacy that her great-grandmother did to the log-cabin mansion in pioneer days in Kentucky. There are fifteen charter members and this chapter will meet the first Monday of each month at the Frankfort public library."

Dr. and Mrs. D. G. Marrell returned last night from Martinsville, Ind., where Dr. Marrell went for the purpose of taking baths to relieve his suffering of rheumatism. He has been at Martinsville for two months, and is considerably improved, although not entirely well.

Laughing, Lazy, Fat Folks Made Slim Without Drugs

During the cold weather fat people stay at home and do not care much about removing fat. They eat heartily and dress warmly. This time of year is the time when the fat people are most likely to be removed. The winter has a peculiar action on the blood. We all know how our skin contains pimples and boils break out in the spring owing to the stagnation and sluggishness of the winter blood supply. In the fat this condition is especially true. If you will go to your nearest druggist and buy a case of Marmola tablets you will stop making fat at once and you may eat when and what you will and the fat will leave you at the rate of from 12 to 15 ounces a day and more than that you will not be left with large, flabby rolls of skin and deep wrinkles.

These tablets are made after the famous Marmola Prescription and were so made to supply a great demand for a handy fat reducer that every one could carry in a purse or vest pocket so that after any meal they could be taken and evil consequences from such a meal thus avoided. You can not secure Marmola tablets from your druggist or should you so prefer send the price of a large case, to The Marmola Company, Dept. 410, Detroit, Mich., and they will send Marmola tablets to you in a plain sealed package postage prepaid.

S.S.S. REMOVES THE CAUSE OF CATARRH

S.S.S. cures Catarrh by removing the cause from the blood. It so thoroughly purifies the circulation that there is nothing left to inflame and irritate the mucous linings of the body, which is the most prominent and dangerous effect of Catarrh. As long as the mucous membranes and tissues are kept in a state of inflammation and irritation by a pure and infected condition of the circulation, Catarrh will remain. Its disagreeable symptoms of ringing noises in the ears, mucous dripping back into the throat, headaches, watery eyes, difficult breathing, and even stomach disorders and weakened health, cannot be permanently relieved until the blood is purified. Local applications alone can have no real curative value, because such treatment does not reach the blood. Sprays, inhalations, douches, etc., are valuable only for their cleansing and antiseptic effect, but if depended on alone Catarrh sufferers will find a cure impossible. Nothing equals S.S.S. for curing Catarrh. It goes down into the circulation, gets at the root of the trouble, and removes every particle of catarrhal matter from the blood and enriches this vital fluid so that instead of irritating the different mucous portions of the body, it nourishes them with rich, health-giving properties. Then the symptoms begin to pass away, and Catarrh is permanently cured. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice free.

Her Money's Worth.

A Buffalo preacher tells a story of a woman who, after hearing him preach, informed a friend that she did not like the services at all. The seat was hard, she said, the singing was not good and the preacher was poor. Her little girl, who overheard her remarks, and who was present with her at church, said:

"But, mamma, what can you expect for a penny?"—Harper's Magazine.

WHEAT UNSTEADY DURING THE WEEK

DECEMBER BREAKS AND MAY SHOWS ADVANCE.

Strong Shipping Current Toward the Markets—Argentina Keeps Traders Guessing.

THE FLOUR TRADE IS DULL.

Chicago, Nov. 30.—The advance in the price of December wheat last week that carried that option to a high point of $1.09 3/4, which was considered a more natural basis, as compared with other centers, started a movement of wheat in this direction. Meanwhile private elevators had been getting busy blending and cleaning wheat up to grade for delivery on December contracts and it became apparent that December longs would get a great deal more wheat than they had bargained for. As a result much of the long wheat was dumped overboard and the December price broke sharply, losing about 2 cents for the week.

It was the popular impression that the big line of wheat owned by Waterman, the Albany, N. Y., miller, had been in process of liquidation all during the week. The liquidation, however, did not have much effect on the market until Friday when it became more general. Veterans in the trade believe that the sales have been large enough to seriously impair the prospect of a squeeze in next month's delivery. Shorts that have covered during the last two weeks of advancing markets are not likely to again take the selling side, and there is even less probability that new short sellers will take their places. The large quantity of wheat now being brought down from Duluth by lake, and from the west and southwest by rail by the Armour Grain company and others, indicates that the December deal, if any is run, will have an unusually large corpse for burial afterward. With cash wheat at a premium this would, of course, be no great hardship on the buyer of the property, providing he could find a ready market for it before it had piled up a large bill for storage. It was made pretty plain by the large selling of December wheat and by the liberal buying of cash wheat by the Armour company to come here that the December longs were as unwilling to pay the carrying charges on a big line of wheat this winter as the elevator companies were anxious to collect them.

May Shows Advance.

Despite the weakness in the December delivery, May wheat ruled strong under vigorous buying by local bulls. This month closed the week with an advance of 1 1/2 cents. Many local traders are of the opinion that May wheat will gain relatively from now on, unless there should be manipulation in the December. It is doubtful now whether there will be any attempt to run a deal in the near by delivery, as there is a strong possibility that more wheat will be available for delivery than the bulls care to take. However, should the new turn bullish in regard to the Argentine crop, this may make the December bulls more willing to handle the large "corner" at the end of the month. If cash premiums are maintained at present levels the disposition of the wheat would have no terrors for the holders, but there is no guaranty that they will do so. While foreign stocks have reached practically normal proportions, buyers abroad have been lulled into a sense of security by the generally encouraging advices from Argentina. Any possibility of a shortage in that direction would again turn the attention of foreigners to our wheats, and there does not appear to be any large amount pressing for sale. Winter wheat farmers are selling sparingly, and in the northwest receipts continue to run less than a year ago, while Minneapolis has a very small stock of wheat for this time of year. Duluth has a fair supply, but much of it will be distributed in the next week or ten days.

The cash demand the last day or so has not been brisk, and as the flour trade will doubtless be quiet for a time, sales will not be heavy for a few weeks.

Dr. Pierce's Health Talks

The miracle of motherhood is often overshadowed by the misery of motherhood. The great functional changes which are incident to child bearing leave their mark for life on many a mother. Some women offer up their lives as a sacrifice on the altar of motherhood. A far greater number live on in ceaseless misery. Their strength fails, their beauty fades, they have no ambition and no enjoyment in life. To every woman

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Offers escape from the pains and perils of motherhood. Taken during the period of waiting and anticipation this medicine strengthens the body, nourishes the nerves, and prepares the whole womanly system for the coming of baby. It also insures an abundant supply of nourishment for the child.

The mind feels bright and buoyant. There is no anxiety, no dread, but in its place a happy anticipation of the baby's coming, which counts for the future happiness of the child unborn. The use of "Favorite Prescription" makes the baby's advent easy, and gives abundant vitality to nursing mothers.

There is no alcohol or habit-forming drugs in "Favorite Prescription." It is a purely vegetable medicine.

Accept no substitute for "Favorite Prescription." There is nothing "just as good" for weak and sickly women. All its ingredients printed on its bottle-wrapper.

The larger success of doctor or druggist is never won by putting love for the dollar above duty to the sick. Protecting the sick, giving them what they ask for when Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is called for, will enrich him in respect, if it does not swell to the utmost his profits.

Livestock.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 30.—Cattle.—The receipts of cattle were 2,362 head. A very good attendance of buyers was in evidence, the demand fairly good and but little change in the market. Choice handy weight butcher cattle were in good demand and fully steady, while all medium and inferior kinds were plentiful and dull; prices were barely steady, as compared with last week. High grade feeders and high class stock cattle in fair request and steady; good demand for good weight steer, and but few of that class here; common, trashy stockers slow. Bulls firm; canners and cutters dull. Milch cows unchanged. Not many heavy cattle here; that class about steady. The pens were fairly well cleared. Market closed quiet.

Calves.—Receipts 183. The market ruled slow, shade lower; the bulk of the best 7 1/4 @ 7 3/4; medium, 5 1/4 @ 6 1/4; common, 2 1/4 @ 4c. Hogs.—Receipts 7,216. The market ruled steady on everything but light pigs, and they sold a shade lower; the best hogs, 105 lbs. and up, selling at $3.15; 130 to 165 lbs., $2.75 @ 2.85; heavy pigs, $2.50; light pigs, $2.00 @ 2.10; roughs, $2.25 down. The pens were well cleared. Sheep and Lambs.—Receipts 172 head. The market ruled firm on good lambs; the best 5 1/4 @ 6c; some fancy higher; butchers, 5 @ 5 1/2; culis, 3 @ 4c; best fat sheep, 3 @ 3 3/4; common sheep very dull.

St. Louis, Nov. 30.—Cattle.—Receipts 5,000, including 400 Texans; market steady to shade lower; native beef steers, $3.75 @ 7.75; cows and heifers, $3.25 @ 5.75; stockers and feeders, $3.40 @ 5.25; Texas and Indian steers, $3.60 @ 4.80; cows and heifers, $2.00 @ 4.25; calves in carload lots, $5.50 @ 8.50. Hogs.—Receipts 12,000; market best grades strong, others lower; pigs and lights, $6.25 @ 8.10; packers, $7.75 @ 8.15; butchers and best heavy, $7.95 @ 8.25. Sheep.—Receipts 2,500; market prospects lower; native muttons, $3.35 @ 5.00; lambs, $6.00 @ 7.50.

Corn Stocks Low.

Local corn stocks are low and shippers are dependent on daily arrivals to the end of the month to make their contracts good. There is an immense long interest scattered through every commission house in the trade and a large long interest which is more concentrated. An immense feeding season is generally predicted because of the relatively lower prices for corn than of live stock, but it is also generally conceded that the crop in the big surplus states is big enough to supply the feeding wants and leave a big margin for marketing.

December corn was 1/4 cent higher for the week and May and July each gained 3/4 cent.

Oats Ruled Firm.

The oats market was quite firm all week with a fairly good shipping demand. The feature of the trade was the aggressive buying by the Patten house.

There was another bull market on in provisions late in the week. Commission houses had unlimited orders to buy, while brokers who usually act for local speculators and the large packing interests also were active on the buying side. January pork gained 8 1/2 cents for the week and May was 85 cents higher. Lard was 39 cents higher and ribs advanced 45 cents.

BUDGET IS A WORLD ISSUE

LORDS MUST BE TAXED TO SAVE COUNTRY FROM GERMANY.

Germany Wants Supremacy of the Sea and Right to Trade in English Colonies.

MEANS ENGLISH EXISTENCE.

London, Nov. 30.—The stage is being set in the old world for a great drama.
 Within every cabinet in Europe, behind closely guarded doors, around great tables, grave and thoughtful men are peering thoughtlessly into a portentous future. The tension is felt acutely in Downing street and the foreign office, and it is reflected in the brooding eyes of Pichon, the great foreign minister of France. With phlegmatic calm Von Bethman-Holweg, the grim chancellor of Germany's war lord, studies the statistics of the superb army, the impregnable fortress and the huge fighting craft that fly the flag of the Fatherland.

Down in the dual empire of Austria-Hungary, an old man, whom the winter of life has grasped with its key chill, is tottering to the grave. At his elbow stands a figure—minister, saturnine, scheming—waiting for the not far distant moment when he can grasp the reigns of government.

In the new Turkey, a government as yet untried is being carefully studied by all for the part it may have to take.

A Sore Beset Czar.

Across in Italy a king, nominally bound by the triple alliance, has always at hand every plan the shadow of the recluses of the Vatican, constantly hoping for a restoration of temporal power, and aided today by the greatest secretary for state the church of Rome has known in a hundred years—Merry Del Val, scholar and ecclesiast, soldier and dreamer, polished man of the world and asset of churchman, who is keenly cognizant of the move of every chancellor in Europe.

In far-away Russia a sore-beset czar, struggling with a heterogeneous population, torn by internal orders, keenly sensitive of the falling political barometer, is trying to reform his lines and the buttresses of his country for the part it must take when the storm breaks.

This is the situation; yet you don't see it openly discussed in public. It is a subject tabooed, yet it is in every man's mind. When the great leaders of England meet in Downing street or behind the closed doors of the house—this subject is discussed almost to the exclusion of everything else. Once in a while you find some statesman who hints at it—the terror that shadows all Europe.

Roseberry Sums It Up.
 Perhaps the best expression of the situation was that made by Lord Roseberry, the brilliant, the unstable but the lovable ex-prime minister. He referred to it as the "omnibus hush" that broods over Europe.

When you talk confidentially with the men who are most familiar with the intricate moves of the various governments, you will be astonished at the frank manner in which they discuss the inevitable eventuality of a war—a war that in its ultimate ramifications will take in England and all continental Europe.

Germany and England are the great signatory powers to the decree of unrest. They face each other, awaiting the inevitable, the final war for dominance. Europe is not big enough for two. One must go. Germany has made her bid for dominance. England cannot acquiesce.

An Election Approaches.

For a century England has dominated the sea. "Britannia rules the waves" is not the glorified chant of a deluded nation. It is the daily consecration to a work that must be sustained. Germany has put out her hand for that rulership. Either England must submit supinely or fight—and unless all signs fail England will fight.

England is about to go into a general election. England is poor, but undaunted. Lloyd George, probably the ablest chancellor Great Britain has produced in a generation, has brought on a budget which the lords will reject. A ministry will stand or fall at the general election, but back of it all is the great, the more important question of England's world dominance as an empire.

England's Ancient Trouble.

The trouble England encounters today in her budget battle goes back to feudal days, when the barons had great grants of land, and the power of life and death over their vassals; when they were exempt from taxation upon their lands, but in times of war must furnish a quota of men, arms and equipment for the king's defense. The feudal system is dead, but the lord holds his land free of taxation while absolved from the duty of furnishing men and arms. Now Lloyd George steps in with his plans to make the great nobles, the great landholders pay their equitable share of taxation, and the house of lords is about to reject the budget.

All this has close bearing on the strained, momentous situation. The increased taxation is necessary to keep up England's stupendous war plans. Men and ships must be pro-

LIFE OF A PIMPLE.

Complexions Are Cleared and Pimples Disappear Overnight Without Trouble.

The dispensers of poslam, a new skin discovery, ask that notice be given that no one is urged to purchase it without first obtaining an experimental package. Everyone who has tried it knows that the fifty cent box, on sale at Gilbert's and R. W. Walker & Co.'s, and all drug stores, is sufficient to cure the worst cases of eczema, where the surface affected is not too large. The itching ceases on first application. It will also cure acne, tetters, blotches, scaly scalp, hives, barbers' and every other form of itch, including itching feet. Being flesh-colored and containing no grease, the presence of poslam on exposed surfaces, such as the face and hands, is not perceptible. Water and soap cannot be used in connection with it, as these irritate and prolong skin troubles, sometimes even causing them.

As to the experimental package of poslam it can be had free of charge by mail of the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth Street, New York. It alone is sufficient to clear the complexion overnight and to rid the face of pimples in twenty-four hours. No. 3 vided to sustain England's dominance on the sea, and men and ships cost millions.

The general election will mean more than the stand or fall of a ministry or the adoption or rejection of a plan of taxation.

Protect English Markets.

England is a free trade country. Her vast colonies are open to the traders of the world. Germany is the biggest salesman of the world and they are practically nil. Germany has a little strip of 500 miles of seaboard. From that congested area, her ships freighted with German merchandise, go forth to all the golden colonies of England. This traffic finds a free port and practically no competition, for the English merchant and English manufacturers can not compete in capacity and enterprise to their German cousins.

The tariff reformers, as they are called here, the protectionists really, are demanding protection for English markets and English trade. It was the slogan of Joseph Chamberlain and Balfour, Roseberry and other great leaders have taken up the cry of that stricken leader. The battle will be on the budget, but the issue will be protection versus free trade.

Once more take the map of the world and study Germany's markets. America can compete with her. France has its restrictions. Italy is safeguarded. The only markets left to Germany are those of England and her colonies. Germany is an overpopulated, over-producing country. Germany practically lives off England today. Close the markets of England and her colonies to Germany and Germany becomes bankrupt.

Germany Would Fight.

There you have a cause—not the only one—but a great one. Germany England will not concede. Germany needs colonies for immigration, and there are no colonies. Germany feeds at the expense of England's markets. Cut off these markets and the whole situation becomes acute. No colonies, no sea dominance, no markets, and Germany from her very geographical and commercial topography becomes isolated and impoverished.

Germany will not tolerate this. She will fight first. The pretext may not be the adoption of protection, the intervention against colonies, the contention of superior sea power. The pretext will be something else, but the real reasons will be these cited.

Germany will fight for sheer survival. England will fight to maintain her supremacy. Whichever loses disappears from the affairs of the world as a dominant power. The victor will demand an indemnity big enough to rebuild destroyed ships and

The Rome and Carthage.

LAYMEN ATTEND WEEK OF PRAYER

GRACE CHURCH PARISH HOUSE IS WELL FILLED.

Dr. G. T. Sullivan Will Speak Tonight on the Movement Among Laymen.

OTHER SPEAKERS TO FOLLOW.

Grace church parish house was nearly filled with laymen of many denominations last night at the opening meeting of the week of prayer, which lasted one hour. Dr. D. C. Wright spoke last night on prayer and work among laymen. He said he believes that prayer and the spirit of prayer are more widespread now among men than formerly. That there is a lack of personal work among the laymen, he admitted, and gave several reasons why it was so. One of them he said was that the ministers, perhaps, had not impressed upon the laymen their responsibility in this regard. Another was lack of knowledge how to proceed; natural timidity; desire not to appear strange; a sensitiveness about bringing a conviction that lies deep in the heart.

Dr. Wright said it is necessary for the laymen to equip themselves with knowledge of the church and religious affairs, to meet objections and criticisms of the world and to be able to answer fair inquiries. He said the report has been going the round of the press that church membership and church attendance, in comparison with the growth of population, have been falling off. He said the census disproves this statement. He said people live in the aggregate millions to millions—for instance—about ten millions for China and Japan—yet, if the average laymen were asked where the money goes, he would not be able to tell. He has confidence in the church. The church asked for the money and he gave it freely. It is a good spirit; but the churchman ought to be able to give information concerning the work of the church. It might be important in its effect on another's life. One way to gain information is to take a church paper. His plea was for laymen to take an active interest in the affairs of the church as they do in temporal affairs.

In this laymen's movement, said Dr. Wright, there is no attempt to surrender any doctrine or principle of faith; but in this work denominational differences are disregarded, while all turn their attention to the fundamental truths of Christianity about which all agree.

The meetings will continue throughout the week at 7:30 o'clock

STOMACH TROUBLE!

Had It for Years Until He Heard of Mi-o-na—W. J. Gilbert Tells Us.

If you suffer from indigestion, belching of gas, lump of lead on stomach, biliousness, dizziness, foul breath, nervousness, constipation, or headache, give W. J. Gilbert 50 cents today for a box of Mi-o-na, the celebrated stomach prescription, and if it doesn't cure you he will give you your money back. It relieves painful stomach distress in five minutes. Read the following:

"I had stomach trouble for years. After eating I would be troubled for an hour or so with indigestion. I bought one box of Mi-o-na tablets from Gaffney Drug Co., which completely cured me. That was 12 months ago and to this day I have not been troubled again." J. B. Haskey, Gaffney, S. C., April 20, 1909.

Mi-o-na is the best prescription for stomach trouble ever written; not only does it give quick relief, but it cures permanently because it thoroughly cleanses, renovates, builds up and puts elasticity into the stomach and bowels. Mi-o-na is put up in tablet form and is small and easy to swallow. Sold by leading druggists everywhere and in Paducah by W. J. Gilbert, who rigidly guarantees them. Test sample free. Address Booth's Mi-o-na, Buffalo, N. Y.

A. C. PATTERSON

BURIED THIS AFTERNOON IN OAK GROVE CEMETERY.

Well Known Railroad Man Brought Back Here After His Death in Atlanta.

The body of Albert C. Patterson, formerly of this city, arrived this afternoon at 1:20 o'clock over the N. C. & St. L. railroad from Atlanta, Ga., where he died, and was taken to Fifth and Jefferson streets, where the funeral services were conducted at 2 o'clock by the Rev. Grant T. Sullivan, pastor of the Broadway Methodist church. Burial was at Oak Grove cemetery. The pallbearers, friends of the deceased, were: Samuel Sugars, P. L. Welland, E. S. Burnham, H. G. Johnston, of the N. C. & St. L. railroad, and E. R. Pierce and E. R. Henderson, of the I. C. railroad.

A Card.

This is to certify that all druggists are authorized to refund your money if Foley's Honey and Tar fails to cure your cough or cold. It stops the cough, heals the lungs and prevents serious results from a cold, prevents pneumonia and consumption. Contains no opiates. The genuine is in a yellow package. Refuse substitutes. Brick Streets Repaired.

Holes and worn bricks in the brick streets on Second, Third, Fourth and Fifth streets are being repaired. Some of the depressions made riding anything but comfortable, and the board of public works decided that the streets must be kept in repair. It will take several days to repair all of the bad places.

Foley's Kidney Remedy will cure any case of kidney or bladder trouble that is not beyond the reach of medicine. Cures backache and irregularities that if neglected might result in Bright's disease or diabetes. Gilbert's drug store.

Your Winter Suit or Overcoat

Where—and WHEN—you will get your winter suit or overcoat is a question which will be a live issue before many days. In answering the question WHERE to get it, you should take into consideration the many years of successful business which we have had in Paducah, the high character of our clothing and low prices. As to WHEN you will get it—we can assure you that you will get delivery just exactly when promised—somewhat unusual rule with most tailors.

At our store a satisfied customer is considered one of our biggest assets.

BALLINGER CALLS FOR REVISION

SECRETARY OF INTERIOR'S REPORT TO PRESIDENT.

Urges Necessity for Pushing Prosecution of Pirates by The Government.

SELL COAL INSTEAD OF LAND.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 29.—The report of the secretary of the interior, Richard A. Ballinger, for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1909, contains much of interest as bearing upon the Alaska coal lands dispute, otherwise known as the Ballinger-Pinchot-Glavis row, which threatened to disrupt the interior department and which President Taft is called upon to straighten out.

Of public lands the secretary says, in part:

"The proper use and disposition of the public lands have been questions involving no little legislative as well as administrative difficulty from the beginning of their history.

"All of the principal land statutes were enacted over twenty-five years ago; the homestead act, the pre-emption and the timber-culture act, the coal-land, and the mining acts for the aid of the industrious prospector, were among the earlier acts of this nature.

"The liberal and rapid disposition of the public lands under these statutes which for a long time prevailed naturally provoked the feeling that the public domain was legitimate prey for the unscrupulous and that it was no crime to violate or circumvent the land laws.

"It is to be regretted that we, as a nation, were so tardy to realize the importance of preventing so large a measure of our natural resources passing into the hands of land pirates and speculators, with no view to development looking to the national welfare. It may be safely said that millions of acres of timber and other lands have been unlawfully obtained and it is also true that actions to recover such lands have in most instances long since been barred by the statute of limitations. The principal awakening to our wasteful course came under your predecessor's administration. The bold and vigorous prosecution of land frauds, through Secretaries Hitchcock and Garfield, have restored a salutary respect for the law, and the public mind has rapidly grasped the importance of safeguarding the further disposition of our natural resources in the public lands in the interest of the public good as against private greed. Notwithstanding this, it is necessary to continue with utmost vigor, through all available resources, the securing of information of violations of the public-land laws and to follow such violations with rigid prosecutions."

After discussing and urging the necessity for a new national law under which all public lands would be "classified into various clearly defined divisions according to their principal value or use," the secretary says:

"This, to my mind, is the only way the government can scientifically and effectively proceed to conserve the natural resources of the public domain. To leave to the self-interest of applicants the option to claim a particular tract of land as more valuable for mineral, agriculture, timber, phosphate, oil or gas, or for power sites, is to invite confusion, fraud and contention, and this has been the source of a major portion of the difficulties of the interior department in administering the public domain.

"As regards new legislation the present coal land laws respecting the states and territories, as well as Alaska, should be supplanted by an act fully meeting existing as well as future conditions. The inducements for much of the crime and fraud, both constructive and actual, committed under the present system can be prevented by separating the title to mine from the title of the soil. The surface would thereby be open to entry under other laws according to its character and subject to the right to extract the coal. The object to be attained in any such legislation is to conserve the coal deposits as a public utility and to prevent monopoly of extortion in their disposition. This may be accomplished either through a leasing system, by which the title would remain in the government, under proper regulation and supervision by the secretary of the interior, or through the sale of the deposits, and in either case with restrictions on their mining and use which would control the minimum output and conserve the deposits as a public utility. I believe the most advantageous method will be found in a measure authorizing the lease or sale of the coal deposits in the lands, subject to forfeiture for failure to exercise the rights granted, under such reasonable regulations as may be imposed.

"The above suggestions with reference to the disposition of coal deposits are equally applicable to the oil and gas fields in the public domains, and similar legislation as to lands containing the same is hereby recommended. Indeed, the very nature of these two important mineral resources requires that their disposition be in terms of quantity of the product extracted rather than of acreage.

"Pending the enactment of new legislation as affecting coal lands, all known coal areas were withdrawn from entry for classification and appraisal through the geological survey.

Classification.

"The classification and appraisal of the coal lands in the states and territories other than Alaska proceeded upon the authority of the act of March 2, 1873, which fixes the minimum price only for lands, and leaves to the secretary of the interior their appraisal and the determination of their maximum value. In view of the fact that the law of Alaska directs the disposition of the coal lands in that territory at the flat rate of $10 per acre, no such classification or appraisal is warranted by existing law.

"I have also recently withdrawn temporarily, for the purpose of submitting the subject to congress for new legislation, large areas of oil lands in Wyoming, California, Utah and Oregon.

"The so-called timber and stone acts of June 3, 1878, and August 4, 1902, should be repealed, and a law enacted providing for the disposition of all the remaining timber upon the public lands separately from the soil, and for the disposition of the land after the timber is removed, under appropriate agricultural or mineral laws."

Under the sub-heading "Power Sites" the secretary recommends radical legislation by congress authorizing the classification of all lands capable of being used for water-power development, and to direct their disposal, through the department of the interior, under conditions reserving the title in the federal government.

granting limited easements for development purposes, requiring payment of a substantial entry fee, limiting the constructive period, imposing a moderate charge on the capital invested or upon the gross earnings, holding out forfeiture of all rights as a penalty for the charging of extortionate rates or the making of illegal combinations, subjecting all books and accounts to government inspection.

The report shows total cash land receipts for the fiscal year to be $12,216,415, an excess of $9,494,925 over the total expenditures and estimated liabilities of the public-land service.

Appropriation by congress of a fund for the surveying of the grazing, agricultural, mineral and coal lands of Alaska is urgently recommended.

The secretary announces his determination to impose upon all national park commissioners, as far as existing contracts will permit, a franchise or use tax for the enlargement of the parks-maintenance fund. The establishment of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado as a national park is recommended.

Mrs. Louie Hite, 428 Outlen St., Danville, Ill., writes, October 1st: "Foley's Kidney Pills started me on the road to health. I was treated by four doctors and took other kidney remedies but grew worse, and was unable to do my housework, and the doctor told me I could only live from two to six months. I am now so much better that I did all of my own work, and I shall be very glad to tell any one afflicted with kidney or bladder trouble the good results I received from taking Foley's Kidney pills." Commence today and be well. Do not risk having Bright's Disease or Diabetes. Gilbert's drug store.

An unknown negro entered the boarding house of Carl Hanks, 302 South Sixth street, yesterday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock, stealing Mr. Hanks' 'rky overcoat from the hall rack. The police are trying to locate him.
